A 1989 F800 should have a 7.8 liter Ford diesel in it and at 100,000 miles it should be just getting broke in, if it's been taken care of. I have one that had just under a million hiway miles on it before it was replaced and my current service truck is an L8000 with the same motor and it has just under 500,000 miles on it with literally no work done to it.I currently have 3 Fords with this ...
